

On computers

Most areas of our campus are wi-fi enabled. Here are the guidelines for wireless access for personal laptops.

1. Connect to "IMSc-WiFi" from the available wireless networks.
2. Open the browser and try to connect to some site. This will re-direct you to a login page. If you already have an account here, you can login and continue.
3. If you do not have an account, go to the "Create a free" link for registration. After filling the form, there will be a validation e-mail sent to the address you have given. You have to validate this within 20 minutes of registration. After user validation, the account is valid for 3 days. A validation url will be sent to the collaborator^(*) mentioned in the form and will need to be confirmed by the collaborator within three days - after which your account is valid for the period you have specified on the form you filled.

^(*) For collaborator, please put down either Vijay Kodiyalam (vijay@imsc.res.in) or Partha Sarathi Chakraborty (parthac@imsc.res.in).

For people without a personal laptop, there are likely to be some machines in the computer lab on the 2nd floor (223?). You will soon be given directions on how to access these machines.
